Drawing a Mountain Landscape

1. Start With the Horizon

To draw the mountain landscape, lightly draw a line across the page for the horizon.

-Lightly draw a line across the page for the horizon. Place it about one-third of the way from the top. Add four curving lines, beginning from the lower center of the page and running first to the left and then sharply to the right. Show that the road goes off into the distance by bringing the lines closer together at the top. This use of lines that come together to show depth is known as perspective.

2. Draw the Mountains

To draw the mountain vista landscape, draw inverted V-shapes using jagged lines to show a distant range of mountains.

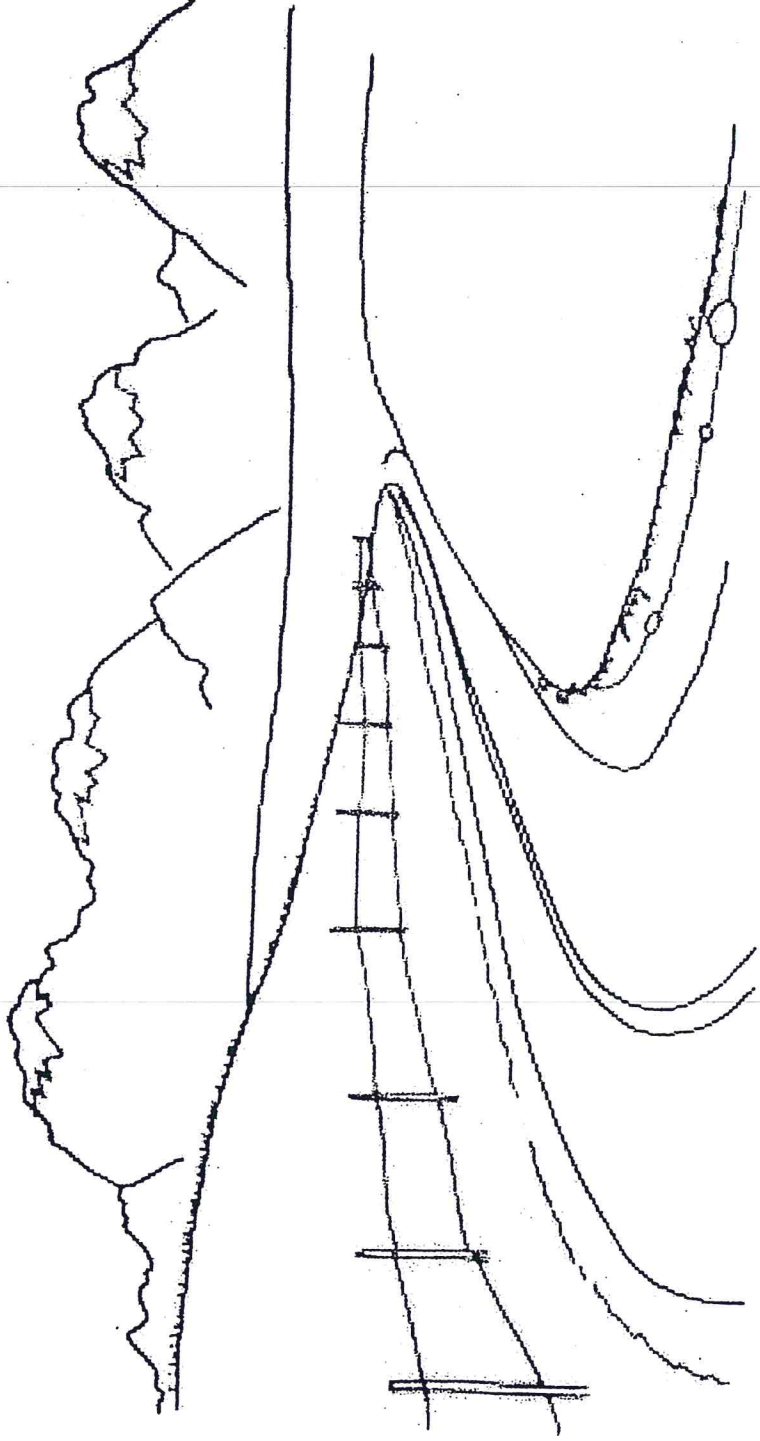

--Draw inverted V-shapes using jagged lines to show a distant range of mountains. Alter the horizon line with curved lines to look like gently rolling hills. Create another hill with aazy curve to the right of the center.

3. Add detail

-Draw sharply jagged lines for snow caps on the tops of the highest mountains. Add grass on the hillsides and near the road with many slanted and jagged lines. Make a series of narrow fence posts with double vertical lines, making them smaller as they fade off toward the end of the road. Use nearly straight lines to show fence rails. Sketch the edge of the road with squiggly lines. Draw rocks near the road with irregular ovals.

4. Add Perspective

To draw the mountain vista landscape, sketch a circular sun in the sky.

-Draw a circular sun in the sky, then put in some tall grass in the middle distance with short lines. Use more short lines for clumps of low grass along the fence. Scatter a few daisy-like flowers on the hillside. Add two more curved lines in the center of the road. Now you have a mountain landscape!

Drawing a Seascape

1. Start with a Sailboat on the Horizon

To start drawing the seascape, place a light horizon line in about the middle of the page.

Place a light horizon line in about the middle of the page. Draw the hull of a sailboat with a long rectangle that has an upturned and sharply pointed end or bow. Make the sail using a triangle with two curved sides and a flat bottom. Draw a second, gently curving line below the boat to represent the shoreline.

2. Add Palm Trees and Breaking Waves

To draw a seascape, show waves near the shoreline with pairs of squiggly lines.

Shape the trunks of palm trees with two sets of curving lines that taper as they go up. Sketch some rounded shapes on the sandy beach for coconuts and rocks. Show waves near the shoreline with pairs of squiggly lines. Extend each wave with single lines.

3. Add the Palm Fronds

To draw a tropical beach landscape, add jagged lines near the trees and rocks to give contour to the beach.

Sketch in the basic outline for the large leaves at the tops of the palm trees. Add jagged lines near the trees and rocks to give contour to the beach. Now you have a seascape!

Drawing a Desert-scape

1. Sketch the Horizon

To start your desert cacti drawing, sketch a line in about the middle of the page for the horizon.

Step 1: Lightly sketch a line in about the middle of the page for the horizon. At the left, draw a long, pencil-shaped trunk for one cactus. Add four upward-curving branches that are slightly narrower. Then sketch two more cacti, one in the distance and another between the near and far cacti.

2. Add Rocks and Boulders.

To draw the desert cacti scene, use wavy lines to show mounds in the sand.

Step 2: Sketch in ovals and similar odd shapes for rocks and boulders. Use wavy lines to show mounds in the sand. Draw two more cactus plants using many long, curving ovals. Change the straight horizon line to one that is slightly wavy.

3. Add Background and Texture

To draw a desert cacti scene, add curved lines to rocks to give them shape.

Step 3: Draw long, irregular shapes for clouds. Use part of a circle to show the sun. Above the horizon line, draw an angled and jagged line to show a distant mountain range. Add lines following the shape of the cacti to show their rib-like surfaces. Draw a small plant with short, stubby leaves in the right foreground. Add curved lines to the rocks to give them shape. Now you have a desert landscape!
